

Session 13
Sample Scenario

A student is sitting in class, talking to another student while the teacher is instructing the class. The teacher stops her instruction and tells the student to move to another seat.

Teacher: So class, the first step is to read your partner's introductory paragraph and then underline the thesis statement...

Student (interrupting, talking to another student): Maria, did you go to the game last night?

Teacher: Jasmine, I need you to pay attention so you know what to do.

Student (to Maria): I didn't see you, but guess who I did see...

Teacher: Jasmine, move to that seat, over there.

Student: Man, why are you always picking on me? I was listening! I know what to do already!

Teacher: I need you to step outside while I write your referral.

Student: Come on, I'm not trying to get into trouble!
