Step Two

Imagine that you are history experts and that a film director asks for your help writing a script for a new movie about World War I. Your job is to write a speech that a high-ranking officer will deliver to government officials, explaining what causes a country to move from a position of neutrality to engaging in war and the responsibility of negotiating a peace settlement.

Use the ideas and text resources from step one to write the speech. Be prepared to present your speech to the class.

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.
